

Copyright Notice

Ameghiniana policies regarding the different versions of manuscripts. Please note that differences apply in such cases in which the authors choose to make their paper Open Access (OA).

-Submitted Manuscript Under Review (SMUR or Pre-print): The Owner licenses back the following rights to the author/s to self-archive or post the SMUR on the author's website, Institutional Repository, Funder Designated Repository, Academic Social Networks or other Named Repository, or share copies with colleagues, without any embargo period. The publisher's source (Ameghiniana) must be mentioned in all cases. If available, the author/s should also provide the link to the published version, including DOI; this can be done later.

-Accepted Manuscript (AM or Post-print): The AM version will be posted in the "Future Issues" section of the Ameghiniana website shortly after acceptance, including a cover page with its DOI indicator. This version will be Open Access to everyone. See below for an exception. The Owner licenses back the following rights to the author/s in the version of the manuscript accepted for publication: to self-archive or post on the author's website, Institutional Repository, Funder Designated Repository, Academic Social Networks, and Named Repository, or share copies with colleagues, without any embargo period. In all cases, the Accepted Version posted must contain a legend: This is the accepted version of the following manuscript: FULL CITE, which has been published in final form at [Link to post-print, including DOI]. We invite the authors to download and use the official version of the AM posted on Ameghiniana's website for the abovementioned purposes. Exception: AMs containing new names and nomenclatural acts will not be released immediately after acceptance to ensure that no nomina nuda will appear online.

-Final Published Version of Record (VoR): The Owner licenses back the following rights to the author/s in the final published version of the manuscript:

- Self-archiving of the manuscript (both paywalled and Open Access VoRs): author (s) retain the right to post the VoR in an Institutional Repository and share copies with colleagues upon request. In all cases, the full reference details of the article (volume, issue number (date), page numbers) must be inserted after the journal title, together with the full link to Ameghiniana's website address.
  1. Only Open Access VoRs: In those cases that the author(s) choose to pay the Article Processing Fee to make their Article Open Access, they additionally retain the right to post the VoR in any other Named Repository, in their websites, and any Academic Social Network. In all cases, the full reference details of the article (volume, issue number (date), page numbers) must be inserted after the journal title, together with the full link to Ameghiniana's website address.
- Re-use of your manuscript: Author(s) retain the rights of the VoR when reproducing the manuscript or extracts from it (figures, tables, artwork, abstract) in presentations at scientific meetings, teaching or training duties, and other works created by them, without any permission from Ameghiniana. In all cases, the full reference details of the article (volume, issue number (date), page numbers) must be inserted after the journal title, together with the full link to Ameghiniana's website address. Modifications to the figures and tables included in the VoR must be identified. Otherwise, no changes may be made. Re-use and reproduction in other publications of figures and tables included in the VoR without any modifications require the publisher's written permission.
